HAMILTON WINS

One Touchdown Made, but Enough to Beat Union

A drizzling rain, a muddy football field, two crowds of College men each cheering lustily for its team, fifty-five minutes of hard, fast football interspersed with yells that would make an Indian seek refuge, a score-board which tells the story: Hamilton 6, Union 0, this, in brief, is the account of our annual gridiron battle with Union University.

But more remains to be told. Steuben Field seldom witnesses a battle like that of last Saturday. Union supporters came a hundred and fifty strong to sing and yell their team to victory. They were confident, they knew there could be but one result, and they came prepared to place the Garnet above the Blue and Buff but they little knew the calibre of our plucky team. Union sympathizers looked at the game from the point of view that Hamilton had a poor record behind them, while they were backed up by an exceptionally good record. This all spelled "Victory for Union." But we who had witnessed the gritty defense of our team against the heavy Syracuse aggregation, and having seen the stiff practice of the week before, and knowing that the College was behind the team to a man, also felt confident of victory. Thus, when the two teams trotted onto the field at 3 o'clock, many hearts were in a flutter of expectancy. It was a battle royal and a game won entirely upon its merits without the slightest chance of claiming a fluke.

At times Union seemed to have a decided advantage and at other stages the balance was strongly in favor of Hamilton, and so it was throughout the game. The amount of ground gained during the game was in favor of Hamilton, as the following statistics of plays show: Bucks and end runs, Hamilton 183 yards, Union 160 yards. Forward passes, Hamilton 88 yards, Union 35 yards. Punts, Hamilton 245 yards, Union 275 yards. Running back kicks, Hamilton 167 yards, Union 83 yards.

The game in detail:

At 3 o'clock White kicked off to Potter who returned the ball 10 yards. Hequembourg tried the line for no gain, Streibert could only make 5 yards and was forced to punt. Holley came back with the ball 10 yards and then gained 20 yards around left end. McLean failed to gain. Leavenworth added 8 yards on a forward pass and White found room for 5 more between right tackle and guard. Holley tried a quarterback run but failed to gain. Holley missed poor try for field goal. Streibert punted out 40 yards from the 25-yard line. Holley came back 15 yards. White and Leavenworth cut off 45 yards on the forward passes. McLean made 5 yards through the line. Holley tried for another field goal which lacked about a foot of being good. Holley returned Streibert's 40-yard punt 10 yards. Hamilton lost the ball on a fake punt and then held Union for no gain. Streibert punted 30 yards, Holley making 10 yards, Potter intercepting a forward pass. Streibert punted 25 yards. Holley made 5 yards. Holley lost ground on a quarterback run. White punted 40 yards to McNab who regained 20 yards. Potter made 15 yards on forward pass. Streibert tore through the line for 10 yards. Hequembourg fumbled: Hamilton's ball. Holley's onside kick of 30 yards went to Union. Hequembourg and Streibert carried the ball 25 yards on line bucks. Tompkins made 5 on a forward pass. Ball on Hamilton's 5-yard line. Striebert covered 4 yards in two attempts. The Hamilton song leaders call for "Carissima." Alma Mater floats out across the field. Hequembourg hits the line hard. The two teams pile up. They disentangle themselves. The ball rests on the 2-foot line. Hamilton supporters go wild. Consternation reigns on the Union stand. Holley then punted 35 yards out of danger. White intercepted a forward pass and tore off 30 yards. Union's ball on a forward pass. Union penalized 15 yards for failure of forward pass. Streibert and Holley exchanged punts, Hamilton gaining 5 yards. Hequembourg, Streibert and Potter tore through the line for 30 yards. White got the ball on a fumble and started with a clear field before him, but slipped and fell. Holley's punt was blocked and rolled to the 15-yard line. Holley punted 35 yards. McNab was downed in his tracks. Streibert and Hequembourg each made 5 yards. Time was called with the ball in Union's possession on Hamilton's 40-yard line. Score, 0–0.

SECOND HALF

The second half was fast and furious and this is the way they ripped it off. Streibert kicked to Holley who returned 25 yards. McLean made 8 yards, White 10, McLean 5, Sidle 4, White 3, McLean 3. Union's ball on failure of forward pass. Hamilton held. Streibert punted 35 yards, Holley returned 7 yards, Sidle circled left end for 17 yards. Hamilton lost 15 yards on failure of forward pass. Holley punted 30 yards, Hequembourg made 5 yards, Streibert 1 yard. Hamilton held. McLean tore through for 3 yards, Leavenworth, White and Sidle made 17 yards. Holley failed at quarterback run. Union's ball. Hequembourg and Streibert cover each 5 yards. A blocked punt fell into Tompkin's hands. Hequembourg circled left end for 25 yards, Streibert made 6 yards. Hamilton held. Leavenworth made 5 yards. Holley's attempted onside kick went to Union. Union fumbled. Leavenworth, White and Sidle covered 12 yards. White fumbled ball on 15-yard line. Streibert punted to Holley who made fair catch on 40-yard line. White failed at goal. Streibert punted to Holley on 40-yard line. Holley, aided by magnificent interference on the part of White, ran through the Union team for a touchdown. White kicked the goal. Score, Hamilton 6, Union 0.

The remainder of the half was a punting contest between Holley and Streibert, with the advantage in favor of Union. Both teams made some good gains through the line but the slippery condition of the ball occasioned frequent fumbles. Time was called with the ball in Hamilton's possession on her own 25-yard line.

The line-up:

Address by Prof. W. J. Miller

Last Sunday noon those in attendance had the opportunity to hear Prof. Miller speak on a topic of very great present interest. The difficulties of reconciling the statements found in the first chapter of Genesis with the modern theory of evolution have doubtless been presented to every thoughtful man; but these difficulties were so thoroughly and satisfactorily treated by Prof. Miller that a summary of his discourse is given below. His subject was, Christianity and Modern Scientific Thought.

"Time was when the religious leaders dictated to men of science and nothing was tolerated which those leaders thought to be opposed to the teachings of the Bible. Among many long-held beliefs were: (1) That the earth, with its inhabitants, was created in six days of twenty-four hours each, (2) that the physical features of the earth have been practically unchanged from the beginning, (3) that the earth was created about six thousand years ago, and (4) that the inhabitants of the earth are practically unchanged from the beginning.

With the religious world thus firmly anchored to such fixed beliefs, it is little wonder that some of the great discoveries of modern science caused a mighty stir. Such a mighty stir was caused in 1859 when Darwin's epoch-making work, "The Origin of Species," proclaiming the doctrine of evolution was given to the world. The idea of evolution, enlarged so as to include even the earth itself, was soon adopted by the scientific world, especially by the great sciences of Biology and Geology.

Theologians at once condemned Darwin's work because it taught things which they claimed were directly opposed to Bible teachings especially the first chapter of Genesis. Many scientists condemned the Bible teachings and the theologians because the latter held such unreasonable and unscientific views. The war was on and bitterly fought. Both sides were narrowed by a wrong view point and both sides were to blame.

When Geology stood forth to champion evolution, both organic and inorganic, that science came to be perhaps the greatest bug-bear to religionists. Instead of the idea of a sudden "special creation" of the earth and its inhabitants, geology teaches that the earth and all living things upon it have been evolved by slow changes through millions of years of time and that these changes are still going on. How radically opposed to the old fixed beliefs of the religionists!

The past fifty years have witnessed great changes in belief, and the once bitter controversy is now almost a thing of the past. Theologians no longer apply the strict literal interpretations to the first chapter of Genesis, and scientists realize that the Bible must, by no means, be looked upon as a text-book of science. When both theologians and scientists came to recognize that they were working in entirely different realms the trouble rapidly disappeared. Religion deals with first causes and with man's conduct, his relation to God and to his fellows, etc., while natural science deals with second causes and with the laws of nature or of the material world.

Men are coming to realize that truth is sacred wherever found, whether in science or in religion. All truth is sacred because it is God's truth and scientific and religious truths can and will never conflict. Science teaches us the great laws of nature and since these laws of nature are laws of God, such study should help us to have a higher and nobler conception of God and our relation to Him. It is a perfect mystery to me how any real scientists can doubt the existence of God. Everything points to law and order and the necessity of an intelligent power or creator back of all."

Football Smoker

There has been much talk lately of a football smoker after the season closes. Of course we will have one. These gatherings are the best possible means to bind together our friendly crowd here on the Hill and we can't afford to miss a chance for holding one. Unless there is some unforseen contingency which will prevent it, the smoker will be held in Commons Hall on Friday, Nov. 15th, at eight o'clock.

TODAY THE VARSITY PLAYS Colgate. The men have been thoroughly coached during the past week and now approximate perfection in team work. Some new trick plays have also been adopted. Every man is in the best of physical trim and is prepared to fight the game of his life. Colgate out-weighs us a few pounds but if ever in the memory of the present student generation there has been a chance to win, today is the time. It is unnecessary to exhort every Hamilton man to be there: Absence is preposterous.

The men will leave Clinton on a special train at 1 p. m. instead of at 1.15 as has been reported. A brass band will accompany us and such a quantity of Hamilton spirit as will sweep Colgate off the field. We'll make it a good day.

THE SPIRIT SHOWN on the sidelines during the Union game should be commended. This was the first real exhibition of our much-boasted Hamilton spirit to be seen this year. The result of the game shows the appreciation of the team. When the ball was on our one-yard line it was the strains of "Carissima" arising from the hearts of the men who love it so well, that inspired the men on the team, and saved us from defeat. The cheering and songs, too, were hearty and showed the pride of the men of this Hillside in the Buff and Blue team, which was striving to win victory for Alma Mater.

However, Hamilton spirit was not the only enthusiasm shown, for those men loyal to Union cheered the Garnet team warmly, even when it was fighting an up-hill game. The good feeling between the two sections was pleasing to every one who likes to see the "square deal."

On the whole the College is to be congratulated on the swing and enthusiasm which marked the cheering and singing, for it is due in no little degree to this fact that the Garnet team went down to defeat and another laurel was "bound in Carissima's crown."

A Timely Suggestion

In the past few issues of LIFE there have been references to our lack of activity along Debating lines. It is time that something definite was done about this. Dr. Stryker has suggested that the matter be left to the two upper classes and that after the teams have been chosen, that a member of the teams act as manager. But why not go a little further and have a regular Debating Council with an elected manager as is the case with most colleges and universities? Last year this was attempted but failed because of a misunderstanding as to what powers the manager should possess.

The following is an outline of a plan for such an organization.

The council shall consist of five members including two Faculty members, two members from the Senior Class and one Junior.

One of the Senior members shall be manager of the team.

These members shall be elected by the College in the regular way.

The duties of the council shall be: To select a debating team from the teams which represent the two upper classes in their interclass debate, either by themselves acting as judges or by selecting judges who will chose the debaters.

To act as an advisory body to the manager: to have power to refuse to ratify his choice of debates.

The duties of the manager shall be: To serve ex-officio as member of the Debating Council. To arrange for all interclass or intercollegiate debates, with the consent of the council. To provide funds for the expense of the team, by subscription.

He shall not accompany the team on trips except as a member of the team.

This is a suggested outline and seems to be a working basis from which our once brilliant college debating can take a fresh start.

Let us do something in this matter and let it be done at once. The best college traditions demand that we uphold Hamilton's debating and this is a business-like way to do it.

Today Hamilton plays Colgate on Whitnall Field. Every man in College recognizes the importance of this game, and will be present to help the team to do its best in the final effort of the season. The above scores will show the standing of the two teams for the past few years.

Although the Varsity will be outweighed as in the past, still Colgate is lighter than usual, and evidently not so strong, there being no brilliant individual players in their-line up.

Comparative scores which, however, cannot be relied on, are in favor of Colgate.

What will be the score? Who will be victorious? Both of these questions will be decisively answered this afternoon, and everyone must be on hand to see it done.

The College body will leave Clinton on a special train at one p. m. sharp. Every man must have a pennant, or the colors in some form, and above all, a megaphone to show them how Hamilton can sing and yell. The management has secured the services of a brass band to swell the noise. All classes will be excused today at 12 o'clock.

The line-up will be as follows:

HAMILTON		COLGATE
Leavenworth	left end	McDonald
Osborne	left tackle	Keegan
Glover	left guard	Waite
Williams	center	Proctor
Thomas	right guard	Bell
Kellogg	right tackle	Boardsman
Wilson	right end	Loeber
McLean	right halfback	Moore
White	fullback	Woodman
Holley	quarterback	Whelan

Referee — Wright, Columbia.
Umpire — Evans, Williams.

Last Tuesday night the Advisory Board held its first meeting in Silliman Hall. The meeting was called to order by President Wood and the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. "	21	Rutgers	at New Brunswick
"	22	C. C. N. Y.	at Clinton
"	29	N. Y. University	at Clinton

A motion was made and carried that the manager be authorized to expend $125 for a coach. A motion was made and carried that the $20 which President Stryker donated to the general fund be turned over to the football manager. After discussing informally the advisability of hiring coaches for baseball and track, the meeting adjourned.

COLLEGE NOTES

— Dr. Stryker is in Rochester today attending the funeral of Mrs. Stryker's mother.

— The inadequacy of our grandstand facilities was again emphasized at the Union game.

— A new Campus Medley written by Purdy, '06, is being rehearsed by the Glee Club.

— Instead of reciting this noon, the Freshman composition class will be held Monday afternoon at four o'clock.

— Hereafter the Glee Club will hold its rehearsals on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock instead of Wednesday night.

— Smith and Babcock, '08, have been appointed to attend the Student Volunteer Convention to be held at Rochester, Nov. 8 to 10.

— The class pictures will be taken next Wednesday if the day is pleasant. Let everyone be on hand so as to have it completed promptly.

— "Uncle John" is anxious that all Freshmen who have not already done so shall report to him for physical examinations as soon as possible.

— The standing in the Freshman LIFE Competition is as follows: Mitchell, Anibal, Gouge, Sidle, Parry, Flagler, Riley, Martin, Willard, Westcott, Day.

— An assessment of twenty-five cents has been levied upon each member of the College to pay for the band to be taken to Hamilton today. McAneny, Burns, Barber and Cross are collecting the assessments and all men who have not yet paid should give these men their money before leaving the Hill.

— In Thursday's issue of the Utica "Press" a detailed article on the relative strength of the Hamilton and Colgate teams was given. Statistics show that Colgate has won 9 out of 15 games. Colgate's average this year was recorded as 164, which probably is a trifle erroneous. Another peculiar statement was that Hubbard of Amherst has been coaching our team. Also, according to the article, the Hamilton men were offering odds of 2 to 1. In addition to these few little jokes there were many other insignificant misrepresentations. The general trend of the article was that if Colgate makes a good showing today they will be doing mighty well and if they win — well that would be beyond what ought to be expected.

President Stryker Speaks

Last Monday night, President Stryker delivered an able and eloquent appeal in behalf of the anti-saloon movement in Clinton. Although the town went license as usual, the liquor interests received the worst scare in years.

President Stryker after explaining his position in taking a leading part in the movement, went on to say that, while all political changes were of import to the citizens of Clinton, even the national problems were not so important to them as those right in their own village. He also made the point by convincing logic, that those who voted for license were willing partners in the saloon business, and went on to point out the well-known evils of this business in a way which would make any self-respecting man ashamed of such a partnership. We feel convinced that no unbiased person could have left that meeting and voted for license. The only way "the praetorian guards of the free-lunch counter" could keep from voting against their own interests was to keep away from the meeting. They did this in large numbers for when Prex asked any healthy saloon-keeper present to step up and take part in a forensic wrestling match, there was nothing doing.

Sophomore-Freshman Game

On next Wednesday, the Sophomores and Freshmen will line-up in their annual football struggle. Both classes contain the material for promising teams and a good game is assured. The Class of 1911 has a little the better of it in regard to Varsity men and substitutes. Prof. Sherman will act as Referee, with Captain Holley as Umpire. Prof. Sicard will officiate in the capacity of Field Judge, with White, '08, as Head Linesman. The probable line-up will be as follows:

1910		1911
Baldwin	left tackle	Richardson
Stone	left guard	Getman
Hastings	centre	Gouge
Mix	right guard	Mitchell
Wheeler	right tackle	Wisehart
Harper	right end	Martin
Knox	quarterback	Burdick
Glover	fullback	Daley
Volovic	right halfback	Jones
Leavenworth	left halfback	Sidle

The Football schedule for the season of 1907 is as follows:

Sept.	28	Cazenovia S. 0	Hamilton 32
Oct.	2	Cornell U. 23	Hamilton 0
"	5	St. Lawrence U. 0	Hamilton 10
"	12	LaFayette C. 43	Hamilton 0
"	19	Rochester 26	Hamilton 9
"	26	Syracuse U. 22	Hamilton 0
